New York, Dec. 9.—Ganeral weakness today was ascribed primarily to the unsettling influence of sharp declines in New Haven and other stocks of corporations whose financial affairs have come in for discussion recently.
The action of the market was disappointing to buil operators, Declines in shares long rated as high class investment securities encouarged bear selling, which was productive of pronounced losses in the speculative tavorites. Steel and Lehigh fell off to a greater extent than the other active shares, but the whole market showed the effect of pressure at intervals, Prices for New York Central and sugar were the lowest for years.

Bonds were casy, Selling of real stock and pressure from bear speculators weakened prices again after a temporary show of stead-iness. New York Central, New Haven and Sugar sold lower than in the morn-Weakness in individual stocks militated against marked recovery in the general list, although the professional selling was suspended at frequent intervals.

New Haven stock declined steadily toward the close of the market. It dropped to 71½, a loss of 4¾ points, and closed at 72.

The market closed weak. Special applications of pressure against eastern railroad stocks caused the general market to stock as a second to the second market. ket to renew its decline with more celerity. New Haven dropped to 713/6 and New York Central to 91%, Other active stocks went down to a point or nore below yesterday's close,

Corn prices weakened on account of fine weather, promoting the movement from first hands. Prices started the same as last night to the lower, and gave no sign of any important rally. The close was nervous, % to % to conder last night.
Oats worked down with corn. Sell-ling pressure, however, proved light.
The first sales of provisions were 214 to 5c easier and a further setback

GEN. SCOTT TELLS OF INDIAN TROUBLE

Says Indians at Shiprock Thoroughly Softened; Are Won Over by Kindness and Sympathy. Washington, D. C., Dec. 9.-Gen. Hugh . Scott, who succeeded in preventing what might have been a considerable indian uprising in New Mexico, has written to secretary Garrison, describing the closing chapters of the negotiations. drawing a pathetic picture of the lot of the indians, and attributing the whole trouble to gossip. Gen. Scott says: "The situation north is absolutely clear. The prisoners were told to apologize to Maj. McLaughlin and their agent, and have done this. Our parting was most pathetic when they left for Santa Fe to report to the judge. They declared they would have died before surrendering if approached in any other way, but they each and every one thanked me for causing their minds to be changed for their own good and all say they will go back home when re-leased, to lead different lives. They are thoroughly softened, but they are poor, ignorant creatures who are easily handled if it is done in a sympathetic kindly way, with force underneath which they all respect. The contact of civilization with these people is too hard for them, and there is so much misun derstanding between the two races in which the indian, who in the main is reasonable and well intentioned, always gets the worst of it. The state of terror at the agency and throughout the San Juan valley It was the result almost al together of lies and gossip, carried about by indians and white men. There is no sore spot left anywhere to break later, and I feel safe in saying that the incident is over and done with."
